Such a sleep
They sleep—the men I loved.

A cry that shiver'd to the tingling stars
And, as it were one voice, an agony
Of lamentation, like a wind, that shrills
All night in a waste land, where no one comes,
Or hath come, since the making of the world
The old order changeth, yielding place to new,
And God fulfills himself in many ways.

I have lived my life, and that which I have done
May He within himself make pure! but thou,
If thou shouldst never see my face again,
Pray for my soul. More things are wrought by prayer
Than this world dreams of. Wherefore, let thy voice
Rise like a fountain for me night and day.
For what are men better than sheep or goats
That nourish a blind life within the brain.

But now farewell. I am going a long way . . .
Where I will heal me of my grievous wound.

Such a sleep!
They sleep—the men I loved.

A cry that shivers to the sinking stars
And yet is swept into, on upon
Of lamentation, like a wind, that shrills
All night in a waste land, where no one comes,
Or hath come, since the making of the world.
The old order changeth, yielding place to new,
And God fulfills himself in many ways.

Where I shall meet the old familiar voices
[illegible]
That I cannot bring life with the brain
For what are men better than sheep or goats
Live like a fool, thrain for me night and day.
Than this world dreams of. Wherefore, let thy voice
Pray for my soul. More things are wrought by prayer
If thou shouldst never see my face again.
[illegible] He writhes himself made perfect through
I have lived my life, and that which I have done

that which we are, we are,
One equal temper of heroic hearts,
Made weak by time and fate, but strong in will
To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield.

Dear Miss Marks

I am most grateful to you for the very generous check which you sent in the amount of $2,151.44, on behalf of The United Effort for Biafra, to assist us in our efforts to assuage the suffering of the people in Nigeria/Biafra who are threatened with starvation.

It is gifts such as yours which enable us to carry on our program of relief for the poor innocent victims of this cruel conflict. There is no measuring how much good your contribution will help us accomplish. These days it is only ourselves, a few of the other international Catholic agencies in Europe and the International Red Cross who are actually getting food into Biafra. As you may know, we fly the food in at night and oftentimes at a risk to the lives of the plane crews. The United States Government has just made available to us four large cargo planes so we are now in a position to increase our nightly shipments. Your gift will help us to keep this lifeline in operation.

Please convey my sincere appreciation to all those of The United Effort for Biafra who helped to raise this money.

With every best wish that the New Year may be one filled with every grace and blessing, I am

Sincerely yours,

Edward E. Swanstrom
Titular Bishop of Arba
Executive Director

How dull it is to pause, to make an end,
To rest unburnished, not to shine in use!
As though to breathe were life!

In Appreciation

To you, Mrs. Clara Ferguson and Mr. Peter Elefterakis, we give our thanks for your efforts in guiding us during our four short years at Sharon High School. Your advice has been essential in organizing our many class activities, making each successful and memorable for our class members. You have provided us with the opportunity to overcome the difficulties and frustrations of developing into a united class. Working for us and with us, you have contributed to our growth as individuals with foresight and predestination, enabling us to enter a new way of life as responsible, mature, citizens. We, the people who have worked, planned, and organized with you, thank you, our advisors, for your efforts and contributions to the graduating class of 1969.

FACULTY

Administration

Mr. Dowd and Mr. Blanchon, Sharon High's dedicated overseers, made great strides in building understanding between the administration, faculty, and students. In this, they were aided by the new superintendent, Mr. Stanley Russell, who brought many progressive ideas to this system. The relaxation of the dress code, the suspension of senior final exams, and the formation of a faculty-student discussion group were all to their credit. In addition, they kept Sharon's record of academic excellence intact.

Sharon High Encourages Cultural Development

The library's extension into room 100 gave it a new look. It offered not only an excellent selection of over 10,000 volumes, but also a fine lending library of over 300 records. It fast developed into a highly progressive "cultural center."

New to the Art Department (besides Mr. Bryant's beard) were courses in Art History and Fine Arts. In the former, slides were used to show painters and their works; in the latter, students, for the first time, had the opportunity to do silk screen printing and ceramics. This was another instance of the spirit of innovation which has pervaded the school in the past year.

Under the direction of Mr. Lester Fleishman, the 45-member band took shape. They performed at the Junior Miss Pageant where the Jaycees presented them with new music stands. They also performed at two exchange concerts.

Advisor: Dramatics Club,
Thespian Society
"If Dorris Newton married me, she'd be Dorris Newton!"

Innovation was the key word in the English Department this year. Field trips to see Romeo and Juliet and Macbeth made literature come alive; intensified reading improvement courses and weekly free reading periods encouraged outside reading. Mr. Blake taught an experimental independent study and seminar group which was quite successful.

Getting Down to Business

Mr. Joseph Courteau
Business, Department Head
"Put your coats back in your lockers."

An important facet of Sharon High was concerned with furnishing a sturdy background for those students planning to enter careers as accountants, secretaries and executives after graduation. The courses, including Business Law, Applied Mathematics, Bookkeeping and Stenography, provided a solid basis for these occupations; even students not preparing for a business career found the typing course invaluable.

Mrs. Carolyn Abey
History
"Have you been to Maryland lately?"

Mr. David Nelson
History
Advisor: International Relations Club
"Sorry, the field trip to Mozambique is off."

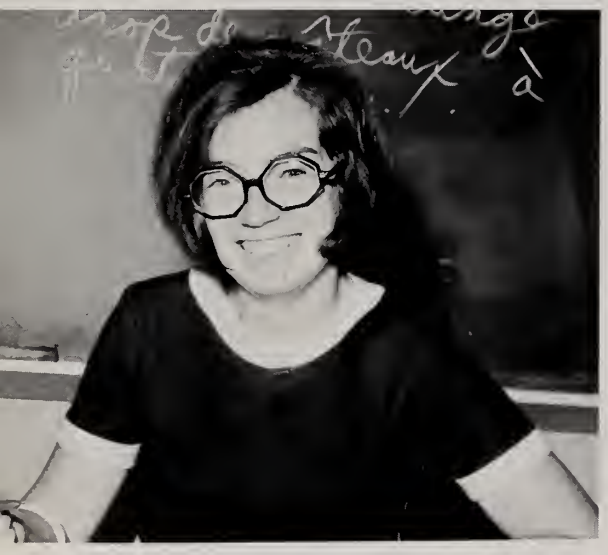
In this way, they were given the opportunity to learn about and understand other civilizations. For the freshmen World History provided an excellent capsule of the past from pre-historic times to the present. Courses in U.S. history and govenment and civics narrowed the field down to the American phenomenon.

Parlez-vous Francais?
¿Habla Usted Espanol?
Dicisne Latinam Linguam?



Whether students were lost in Latin, fractured by French, or spellbound by Spanish, they all enjoyed the courses offered by the excellent language department. As an indication of its expansion, Spanish III was offered this year for the first time, and the language lab was used extensively for both Spanish and French.

Courses ranged from the College Preparatory Math Level I to an advanced physics course, Science III. Wing III had a special air to it; after all, who can forget choking on the pungent fumes of sulphur on a beautiful June day? These two departments certainly aided the students in their knowledge of these subjects and the memories will be lodged in our minds and hearts forever.

Skills of Today Build A Better Tomorrow

Mr. Thomas Marsilli
Industrial Arts
"We keep the boys busy and dusty."

Mrs. Eames and Mrs. McGarr incorporated all the arts of "good housekeeping" into one little package in Home Economics classes, designed to make the young ladies of today the versatile housewives of tomorrow.

The Industrial Arts Department developed skills in the use of machinery and tools to prepare the boys for a vocation in carpentry, architecture, or engineering.

Cater to Student Needs

The hubbub in the guidance office centered around securing admittance for ambitious seniors into the army of 1969 college freshmen. In addition, Mr. Barrows, Mr. Marcus, Mr. Konsavage, Mr. Soule and Miss Haley helped iron out the many academic problems Sharon students had.

Newly added to the staff was Mr. Joel Peckham, a former English teacher. His role was somewhat different from that of the other members. This year, under his leadership, Sharon instituted a program of discussion groups. In this atmosphere of sharing both ideas and attitudes, better social relationships developed.

Striving for Physical Fitness

The goal of the Physical Education Department at Sharon High is to encourage students to actively participate in a well-rounded program of physical development. Students are taught the fundamentals of sports such as field hockey, basketball, tennis, and gymnastics. This gives them the opportunity to demonstrate their abilities in a team effort and as an individual. In addition, an emphasis is placed upon respect for others, leadership, and good sportsmanship.

"Let us recognize the beauty and power of true enthusiasm."

Joel William Schwartz
"They say if one understands himself, he understands all people. But I say to you, when one truly knows people, he learns something about himself."

Ronni Lynne Shapiro
"You give but little when you give of your possessions. It is when you give of yourself that you truly give."

Ellen Ruth Shalek
"When you live with a love for life, you bind yourself to yourself, and to one another, and to God."

Bonita Ellen Shuffain
"It is not enought to do good; one must do it the right way."

Amy Leslie Shore
"The grand essentials to happiness in this life are something to do, something to love, and something to hope for."

Judith Sandra Siles
"Friendship is the only cement that will ever hold the world together."

Jane Ellen Shear
"Happiness is making friends, sewing a new dress, planning a trip to Europe, dancing and sailing."

Peter George Siegler
"We know what we are, but know not what we may be."

Joanne Simon
"To live is like love: all reason is against it and all healthy instinct for it."

Susan Jane Silverman
"Give to the world the best you have and the best will come back to you."

Donald Ray Simpson
"All things come round to him who will but wait."

Barry Smith
"Peace, peace is what I seek, and public calm endless extinction of unhappy hates."

Avis Beth Spector
"Full of fun and fancy free, that's the only life for me."

Lynne M. Stefaney
"Were she perfect, one would admire her more but love her less."

Elizabeth Lincoln Steere
"I'll erase all memories, because only then the best will remain, those that can never be erased."

Susan L. Stein
"There's nothing worth the wear of winning, But the laughter and love of friends."

David Steinberg
"I quickly laugh at everything, for fear of having to cry."

Joan Hall Stolar
"We are the music-makers, And we the dreamers of dreams. Yet we are the movers and shakers."

Peter Stern
"To conform is dull."

Judy L. Sullivan
"My lips are sealed, and that's a pretty tough position to put an Irishman in."

Mark H. Sweet
"God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, the courage to change the things I can, and the wisdom to know the difference."

Sharon Swartz

Kathryn J. Sweetman

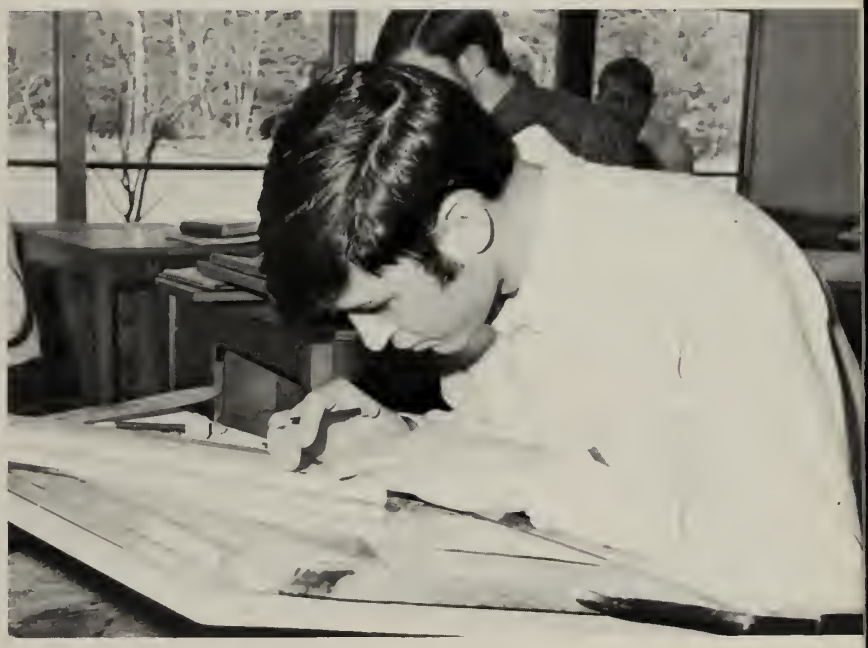
BOYS' AND GIRLS' STATE REPRESENTATIVES
S. Flaherty, G. Lerner, B. Magid

Time it was,
And what a time it was,

It was . . .
A time of innocence

A time of confidences.



Long ago . . . it must be.
I have a photograph.

Preserve your memories;
They're all that is left you.

Grand March: M. Layton, P. Spear, M. Kravitz, M. Budlong, C. Lamb, S. Jackson, C. Canton, P. Lamm.

There's a place for us

A time and place for us
Hold my hand and
We're half-way there
Hold my hand and
I'll take you there . . .
Time together with time to spare
Time to learn, time to care
Someday—
Somewhere—

The Queen and Her Court: J. Kadesh, J. Schultz, A. Cabral, V. Gavigan, F. Taylor, N. Seidenberg, C. Pearlman, M. Sweet, C. Hyde, R. Gold.

Get your crown out of my ear!

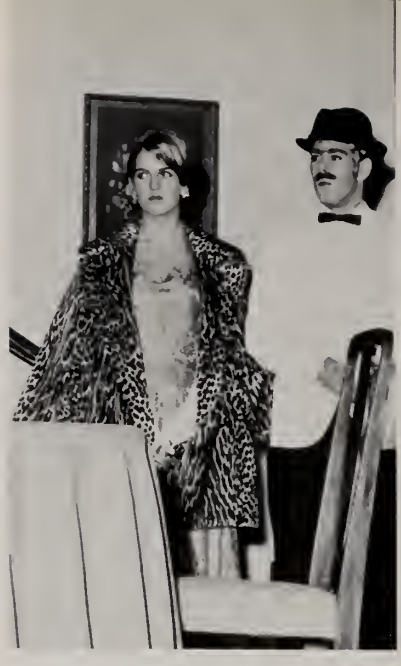
I've told you a hundred thousand times, LET ME LEAD!

Which foot now, Marcia?

Waddaya mean 'Dutch'?

The warmth and romanticism permeating the memorable evening of May tenth, nineteen hundred sixty-eight, made the Blue Hill Country Club truly "A place for us." Highlights of the evening were the traditional Grand March and the crowning of Queen Frances Taylor and her court. Although the Prom ended too quickly, the cherished memories of that "Place For Us" remain.

Eagle Gives Senior Play Four Stars



"No, we got all dressed up to go to fourth lunch."

"Just what I wanted– a bottle of flies."

"The lineup." C. Kravetz, K. Pransky, W. Norwood, S. Flaherty, D. Batt, S. Schneiderman, R. Aines, J. Simon, L. Russell.

The curtain opened; the lights came up, and the senior play began. "You Can't Take It With You" was, in the best tradition of the theatre, a smashing success. This was due to the superb direction of Mr. Carlyle Newton, without whose dedication the Sycamore family would never have come to life. The senior class would like to extend a heartfelt thanks to Mr. Newton, Miss Sanford, the cast and the crew of "You Can't Take It With You" for making the senior play a memorable event.
